

Activity: May the Fourth Be With You! Space Week

May 4th is Star Wars Day. Throughout the week, we will be celebrating authors who write Star Wars related series as well as focusing on authors who write non-fiction. The objectives of this eLearning assignment are: for students to use a database to learn more about a space related topic. For students to build, draw, or create something related to space.

First, use a database to learn about space!

Pebble Go Next

Go to: <https://www.pebblegonext.com/>

Login with PebbleGo Next: Username: engaged Password: learning

Click on the following links:

Science

Earth Science

Planets and the Solar System

Pick three topics from the Planets and the Solar System options that interest you most.

On a piece of paper:

Write: your name, your 3 topics, "I got my information from Pebble Go Next."

Write the THREE most interesting facts you learned for EACH topic.

Optional: Draw a diagram or illustration to explain what you learned. This will be in addition to your notes.

Optional: create something space-related!

1. Choice 1: Go to <https://www.nasa.gov/stem-at-home-for-students-k-4.html> Go to the section that says "Build it." Choose one of the choices that works for what you have at home.
2. Choice 2: Go to <https://www.nasa.gov/stem-at-home-for-students-5-8.html> Go to the section that says "Build it." Choose one of the choices that works for what you have at home.
3. Choice 3: Go to <https://www.nasa.gov/stem-at-home-for-students-5-8.html> Go to the section that says "Make it." Choose one of the choices that works for what you have at home.

To send in your Space Science research with your full name and room number and a photo of what you created, email your librarian at gerowe@cps.edu or maalbarran2@cps.edu

Office Hours: We will be available by email throughout the school day (8:30am-4pm), and will respond quickly. After these hours, we will respond the next day.

Read Aloud Resources: The Chicago Public Library is hosting daily read alouds with guest readers and librarians on Facebook Live at 10am each day!

Check the library website at waltdisneymlibrary.weebly.com for engaging activities and resources that will be shared daily!